State-Humboldt

Gator Eleven in Far Western Conference Tilt at Cox Stadium

Far Western Conference action resumes tomorrow night at 8 in Cox Stadium, when State hosts cellar-dwelling Humboldt State. The winless Lumberjacks from Arcata will be the underdogs against the Gators, who have shown flashes of great offensive strength in their first three starts against Cal Tech, Southern Oregon and Whittier.

The Gators, unbeaten in conference play, hold a 39-21 win over Southern Oregon, while the Lumberjacks have been measured by Cal Aggies and Chico State by scores of 41-2 and 39-6, respectively.

Despite the seemingly lopsided edge the Gators hold, the Lumberjacks represent an important test for them. If the men of Coach Joe Verducci aren't able to score a convincing win over tomorrow night's opponent, their FWC future won't appear too bright.

Humboldt State, coached by the former University of California end, Ted Staffler, will field a light team that averages only 176 pounds per man. However, they have the makings of a fine offensive team in its versatile backfield, which is sparked by 155-pound Fullback Ken Dunaway.

Dunaway is the key man in the Lumberjack double wing formation. In addition to bearing the brunt of the running attack, he will also handle the passing and punting.

The Gators, who did well on the ground last week against Whittier, should fare even better against the much lighter Humboldt line. However, the Lumberjacks have always managed to get "high" for State, and may spring a lot of surprises before the night is over.

State is in top shape for the contest, and will be able to exert two-pronged pressure on the admittedly undermanned Lumberjacks. Thus far, right half Rudy Smith and fullback Walt Jourdan have been the most consistent ground gainers for the locals.

The Gators' chief worry is a repetition of the St. Mary's-Georgian game, which isn't beyond the realm of possibility.

The Continental Approach

Pajama Top Hop Accents Unusual

Stresses Formal Wear In an Informal Manner

The newest innovation in collegiate attire will be displayed tomorrow night when Delta Gamma Tau, men's service fraternity, presents its Pajama Top Hop in the women's gym immediately following the Humboldt-State football game in Cox Stadium.

Those who are "in the know" will arrive from the football game nattily attired in pajama tops, but the Republicans in the crowd may wear sport clothes if they wish.

The returns from the student body elections as well as the reading of the list of all pledges invited into State fraternities and sororities will highlight the evening's festivities.

A special treat for regular dance goers is the welcome news that the student lounge will be open that night for thirsty and hungry football and dance fans.

Music in the pajama manner will be supplied by Paul Law's orchestra and dancing will last until 1 a.m.

Al Wollenberg is the dance chairman. Committee chairmen are: Wally Stasek, tickets; refreshments, Courtney Pontious, and decorations, Dale Perkins.

Tickets are on sale today and tomorrow in the basement of College hall. Prices are 75 cents with a student body card and $1.25 without.

Another Service Rendered By Your College Paper

Voting will begin next Thursday for the Homecoming Queen who will reign supreme October 28.

The method of voting will be through a ballot that will be printed in the next issue of the Golden Gater. Any student wishing to cast a vote for one of the queen candidates may write his choice on the ballot and deposit it in the voting box after paying 10 cents to one of the Block S representatives.

Voting will be conducted solely through this medium, so be on hand next Thursday to get your copy of the Golden Gater.

Concert Season Opens October 23

First Program Slated At Commerce High

The musical organizations of San Francisco State College are opening their concert season October 23, with a program featuring the S. F. State Symphony Orchestra.

The concert, to be held at the Commerce High School Auditorium at Franklin and Hayes Streets, will particularly feature the Rachmaninoff Second Piano Concerto, and Wendell Otey's "Centennial Americana," for chorus and orchestra.

Austin Coggin, now a member of the piano faculty at San Francisco State College, will perform the solo part in the piano concerto. He has appeared widely in concert and recital throughout the Midwest and South, as well as with the Stockton Symphony Orchestra last January.

Mr. Otey, who will conduct the orchestra, is also a member of the music faculty at State. His orchestral composition is well known in this area through an appearance he made in 1944 as conductor-composer with the San Francisco Symphony in his "Variations for Orchestra," which was broadcast over the Sunday evening "Standard Hour." His "Centennial" is particularly appropriate in this, the last of three Centennial celebratory years here in California.

The program will open with William Ward's "Concert Piece." Mr. Ward, a member of the State music faculty since 1947, was awarded first prize in the National Arranger's Contest in 1947.

The program will be rounded out with the ballet music from "Swan Lake," by Tchaikovsky, and excerpts from the music play, "Johnny Appleseed," by Dr. Tothoroh, from San Francisco's Centennial play of 1948, "The Shining Trail," and from the Monterey Pageant of 1948, "Beginnings of Statehood."

The assisting chorus for the concert will be the San Francisco State College A Cappella Choir, directed by Roy Freeburg.

The symphony will begin at 8:15. A wonderful evening of fine music is promised all who attend this State college music production.

State Loyalty Oath Confab Scheduled For Today

Students and Faculty Will Both Participate

After several postponements, the long heralded associated students' sponsored State loyalty oath roundtable will be held today at 1 p.m. in the Baptist church.

Titled "Let's Look at the Facts: A Roundtable Discussion on the State Loyalty Oath," the discussion group of four students and four faculty will attempt to cover the basic issues involved in the current controversy over the State loyalty oath. The roundtable will last from 1 to 2 p.m.

Ever since the controversial "Student Rally for Academic Freedom," both students and faculty have expressed the need for a more rational discussion of the issues of academic freedom, anti-communist hysteria and the purpose of loyalty oaths in general.

The speakers for the roundtable have been carefully chosen for their diversity of opinion on the issues involved.

Dr. George D. Outland will act as moderator for the eight speakers.

The faculty speakers are: Alfred G. Fisk, Herbert Bisno, John B. Schneider and J. Fenton McKenna.

The student speakers are: Guy Morgan, Courtney Pontious, Orv Wycoff and Bob Preble.

A 15 minute open discussion period will be allowed toward the end of the hour for the submission of written questions by students in the audience concerning any issue they feel has not been adequately covered in the course of the roundtable.

Block S Dance Opens Next Week

Elaborate preparations are under way for next week's Homecoming Dance, according to Block S publicity manager Ken Perry.

The game is scheduled immediately after the State-Chico football game, October 28. Music will be by Stan Shaff and his band.

"If everything goes according to plan, we'll hold the dance at the new campus gymnasium," said Perry.

Tickets will sell for $1.25 without student body cards and 75 cents without.

Enrollment Takes Another Jump

Final enrollment figures released by the registrar's office indicate that 5301 students are now enrolled at San Francisco State for the 1950 fall session. This is an increase of 281 students over the enrollment at this same time last year.

There are 4136 full and part time students and 1165 veterans.

State college is one of the few colleges in the Bay Area to have an increase in enrollment. City College of San Francisco dropped 890 students since last semester, bringing enrollment down to 4526, their lowest figure since 1945.

The University of California enrollment dropped from 20,664 to 17,835 this semester, as similar decreases have also been recorded at most other colleges and universities in the area.

Queen Contest Next Week

Block S is again sponsoring the third annual Homecoming Queen contest. Any on-campus organization may sponsor a candidate. The names of all candidates must be in today by 4 p.m. in the Block S box in the student body office.

All of the candidates will be presented at the rally next Thursday. Ballots for the selection of the queen will be printed in the Gater next week. Ten cents must be paid to place a ballot in the voting box.

Two voting points will be set up, one box will be placed outside of the co-op, and one will be placed in the student lounge. The money received from the voting is to be contributed toward the band uniform fund.

The queen will be crowned at half time at the State-Chico game, and will be presented at the Block S "Homecoming Dance."

Students Vote Tomorrow To Fill Seven Official Posts

29 Students Are Candidates For Board and Class Vacancies

A special election will be held tomorrow to fill vacancies on the associated student board of directors as well as class officer vacancies. The polls will be open tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Only holders of associated student membership cards will be allowed to vote.

200 Cards Only Partially Paid in Installment Plan

Deadline Extended For Vets Until First Check

With the passing of the October 15 deadline, 200 student body cards which were purchased on the two-payment plan have become invalid. The number of cards sold on the installment plan totals 365, of which only 165, or 45 per cent, have been paid.

The associated students stress that the 200 cards will remain null and void until such time as they are paid. Until payments are completed, the cards will not be honored; holders of these cards will not be admitted free of charge to football games, nor will they continue to receive their free copies of the Golden Gater.

These students will also lose the privilege of buying streetcar tickets, and will no longer be eligible for cut rates in the student lounge and co-op. Discounts to these students will also be canceled by local merchants.

Notices urging installment buyers to pay off their cards and have them validated for further use were inserted in their post boxes last Friday morning. The greatest care will be exercised by the associated students to make certain that only validated cards are honored.

Because of the delay in the arrival of this month's subsistence checks, a special plan has been provided for veterans whereby the payment on their cards will not be due until the checks arrive.

Since the goal of 3000 cards was not realized, drastic cuts have been made in the budgets of all on campus groups which receive financial support from the associated students. These groups have been working toward the realization of the goal by contacting some 600 students who stated they might be interested in buying their student body cards later in the term.

The success of their efforts has not yet been reported, but it is hoped that a high percentage of the students will purchase cards and help swell the present total of 2306 sales.

Discount Plans Are Progressing

The associated student discount plan (lower prices on merchandise for student body card holders) is now functioning. Tires, batteries, auto repairs, grease jobs, typewriters (all portable models), dry cleaning, shoe repair and records are all available to State College student body card holders.

A bulletin board is being prepared on which all discount merchants will be posted. To illustrate, cosmetic items are available through Dryer's Pharmacy in Richmond. You may order drugs and cosmetics through Miss Amy Dryer here at school.

If anyone knows of a merchant who would be interested in cooperating with this plan, contact Orv Wycoff, co-ordinator of the discount plan, Box 376. The plan needs people who can meet merchants and convince them that this plan is worthy of their cooperation.

According to Wycoff, the merchants are receptive to the discount plan. The only factor lacking in the plan is personnel, especially typists. In issuing his plea for help, Wycoff, said, "This is a wonderful opportunity for those interested in salesmanship. Those involved will gain confidence and experience, which will be invaluable in almost any career."

Yearbooks Can Still Be Bought

A limited supply of the 1950 Franciscan yearbook are still available for those students who were unable to purchase them last year. The yearbook stresses the central theme of the "old and new" and accentuates the transitional stage that the college is now going through. Containing more than 100 pages, the book has pictures covering every phase of campus activity.

The Franciscan can be purchased for $3.00 with an associated student membership card, or for $4.00 without. The yearbook is on sale in H4B, the associated students' office.

Two election booths will be set up. One booth will be in the basement of College hall and the other will be on the balcony alongside the women's gym.

Only the three positions on the board of directors will be open to a vote from the entire student body. They are the member-at-large post (over 60 units) and the two member-at-large (under 30). The remaining offices are to be filled by a vote along class lines.

In the race for the member-at-large position (over 60 units) four candidates are waging a hotly contested battle. They are: Courtney Pontious, Bill Wuerch, Jack Trodden and John Clark.

A surprising turnout for the member-at-large (under 30) positions is evidenced in the fact that 10 students are running for the two vacancies. They are: Leonard Beecher, Jim Coltrell, Charran Holmes, Nancy Lamb, Patricia Peterson, Betty Silverman, Ethel Ramstad, Val Travaglini, Don Van Noy and Pete Holmes.

The sole position that is uncontested is that of sophomore class president. Harry Redlick walked in unopposed.

Showing the heaviest turnout were the freshman class officers with eight students running for the office of president alone. The candidates are: Jack Anderson, Merv Fauss, Len Flynn, Gerry Lowenthal, Roy Smith, Ray Truman, Ed Zeni and Bert Cooper.

For frosh vice-president four are running. They are Lupe Fabela, Pam Kronman, Gordon Nichols and Jacques Stark.

Frosh secretary: Dolores Des Champs and Rose Frances Cohen.

Students Called On Their Manners

Mr. Linn, principal of the Fredrick Burk elementary school, has asked for the cooperation of all students in helping to eliminate smoking on the upper floor of the training school, noisy and boisterous behavior in the vicinity of the Fredrick Burk school while it is in session, and cutting across the children's playground when it is in use by the children.

New Gym Ready For Cage Season

All of San Francisco State's home varsity basketball games will be played at the new campus gym, except one, Dan Farmer, cage coach, announced yesterday.

Included in the schedule are two double headers, following the pattern of the Cow Palace set-up. On February 10 the Young Men's Institute meets St. Mary's in the opener, while State clashes with Sacramento State in the second game of the evening. Then on February 17, the YMI meets Sacramento State in the first game with Cal Aggies and State battling it out in a Far Western Conference match in the nightcap.

The lone game played elsewhere in the city is when the Gators invade the Cow Palace to tangle with Los Angeles State College on December 2.

The Gators have a 27 game schedule, which will be published in the Golden Gater in the near future.

Foreign Language Dept. Provided Classic Film

On Thursday, October 12, the Foreign Language Department of the Humanities Division, featured the famous film, Die Fledermaus (The Bat), an opera by Johann Strauss, in the Frederic Burk Auditorium.

The film was made available to the whole college, and students filled the auditorium to capacity.

Block Regulations To Be Enforced

Tuesday Designated As Block S Letter Day

Sweater and jacket regulations for State's Block S Society lettermen will be enforced, it was announced recently by Block S President Roy Ciappini.

Since each Tuesday has been designated as Block S Day at State, lettermen—either varsity or jayvee—are urged to wear their letters properly displayed. Following is a description of the regulations as specified in the Society's constitution.

Varsity: letters may be worn on either a white or dark blue sweater or jacket, but must be worn on the left side. Sweater stripes are worn to indicate two or more varsity letters in one activity.

Jayvee: circle S letters may be worn on either white or blue sweaters, but may not be supplemented by stripes. Possessors of three circle S letters in one sport is eligible to wear one varsity letter. All jayvee lettermen are encouraged to wear their letters.

High school or other college block letters are not to be worn at State. Sweaters or jackets of other schools or colleges may be worn, but without block letters.

Roy Ciappini New Block S Prexy

Members of the Block S Society held a meeting recently, at which they elected their officers for the fall semester. The following men were elected:

Roy Ciappini, president; Ken Perry, vice-president; Dick Coltrane, secretary; Joe Kimura, treasurer, and Russ Meserole, representative.

The organization is now making plans for the homecoming dance on October 28.

American Hist., Govt. Exam. Next Thursday

The American History and American Government examination is scheduled Thursday, October 26, in Annex B2 at 4 p.m.

The Social Science division has compiled a list of reference and Dr. Floyd Cave has listed 35 sample questions, which might prove helpful to the student. These lists may be secured in the Social Science offices.

'Modern French Writers' Lecture On Tap Tomorrow

Dr. Peter Penzoldt, recently appointed to the faculty, will speak tomorrow noon on the subject, "Modern French Writers." Sponsored by the Humanities Club, Gamma Sigma Pi, the lecture will be held in Anderson 207, instead of the Activities Room as is usually the case.

Air Officers Slate Interviews

An Air Force officer team will be here at San Francisco State College on October 25, 26 and 27th. The officers will interview college men and women between the hours of 9-4 p.m. on October 25th and 26th, and 9-11:30 a.m. on October 27th.

The Air Force officers team will establish headquarters in the Activities room during their three day stay.

To be eligible, men and women must be between the ages of 20½ and 26½, either married or single, citizens; must have completed two years of college, must be in good physical condition, and meet high moral and personal qualifications.

State Grads Flock to University Of Washington Sociology School

San Francisco State has the distinction of having more students from this school in the University of Washington's graduate department of sociology than from any other undergraduate school in the country. The University of Washington is the top graduate school in sociology west of Chicago, and State graduates are given preferential rating on the basis of records established by former graduates from this school. Many State graduate students are given positions as instructors and research assistants while doing their graduate work.

Included in the group attending the University are two former State student body presidents: Aubrey Wendling and Vincent O'Leary. Wendling is now an instructor while working on his Ph.D., was responsible for incorporating the student body during his term as president. Wendling graduated from State in 1945. O'Leary, who left State in 1948, is also working for his Ph.D.

Others in the department at the University from State include: Hinz Graals, class of '49, who is a research assistant; Ely Chertock, class of '41; Scott Irvine and Bob Hagedorn, both class of '50.

Double Trouble

Double or Nothing is the byword of the Fischer twins here on State's campus. Twosome, Gloria and Floria have baffled the experts, and proven the old saying that two heads are better than one. This is particularly true when the two heads look alike, dress alike, and who knows—they may even think alike. Taking an examination last week, the twins came up with almost the same answers written almost in the same hand.

"All is not well in the State of Denmark," replied the confused professor. "Either someone has been trying to pull a fast one on me, or producing a clear case of coincidence."

Wouldn't college be fun if you had a twin? Imagine if you were taking different courses, one twin could go to class one week, and the other could go the next. Not only would it confuse the professor, but you might get away with it.

Mystery Thriller Opens Season

'Ladies in Retirement' is Season Opener at F. B.

A lonely house, a bricked-up oven, barred windows, a covey of old women, a brash young thief, an old nun, a missing woman. Mystery, perhaps—even murder. These are the elements involved in "Ladies in Retirement," first major dramatic production of the term, taking the stage next Thursday night at Frederic Burk.

Ellen Creed, self-appointed mistress of another woman's house, and guardian of two peculiar sisters, is played by Shirlee Dwyer. Albert, her nephew, is portrayed by Stan Keepey. Bernadette Dowd plays Leonora Fisk, the woman of the world in retirement; Lynn Dunkel and Jeanne Williams play the odd sisters; Mary Madigan, the maid, Marguerite Ruiz, Sister Theresa.

Mr. Jules Irving, director of "The Hasty Heart" and "Kampus Kapers," will stage the production. Ken Robertson will act as assistant director, Jud Holstein as stage manager.

"Ladies in Retirement" will run October 26, 27, 28 and November 2, 3, 4. Following "Ladies," College Theatre's second major production will be "Joan of Lorraine," directed by Dr. J. Fenton McKenna.

Agatheans Meet Tuesday

The Christian Agatheans will present Dr. Gilbert Bellshaw speaking on the topic, "What Does Christianity Have to Offer You?" next Tuesday, 1 p.m., in Anderson hall 110. All students are cordially invited to attend.

By Josephus Finnigan

The war and the sudden departure of the other columnist has brought the sterling character of Nifty Finnigan again into the midst of this journalistic endeavor called the Gater.

Our happy editor-in-chief, and happy commiser of this dream emporium, has agreed to let some of my scintillating palaver find an outlet in this great organ.

Mind you, he was conservative enough, knowing me like he does, to give all sorts of warning as to how my conduct should be—"that of a gentleman"—and no longer should I insult the faculty wives at the Opera House. (Also, get the column in on time.)

This, we agreed, was not the thing for a man of my supposed stature to do.

The director of this whole project, a Miss Phiz Mezey, probably will find some solace in the fact that even though Finnigan is around, he ain't seen as much as he used to be. The latter being due to the fact that the campus has all of a sudden become well stocked with cuties and the happy Harp is cognizant of them (big words are used so that people can't call me a complete salmon).

Now, the problem arises as to what we should call this literary abortion.

My spiritual adviser, one Tom Carey, who leads a cult of mock turtle soup lovers in Daly City, suggested all sorts of titles that were pleasing to the ear.

Said cultist had some wonderful ideas, some with the war motif, which is quite popular nowadays. One cute one was "Stars and Stripes Forever," which I thought was just the thing for any of the reservists on campus.

All this high level thought was done while we were walking in the financial district and observing the happy-hipped honeys from the local banks.

It's amazing what the tender young things can do to the supposed thought potential of a young college gent. I was stimulated no end.

Anyway, we couldn't decide on any apt title for this bit of dribble, so we decided to have a contest. Anyone interested in submitting a name for it can do so simply by sending in a letter to the Gater office addressed to Joe Finnigan, perennial Sophomore. Each entry must be accompanied by a full fifth of domestic Bourbon (no vermouth, please; it leaves a vacuum between one's ears). All entries become the property of the Milpetas Chamber of Commerce.

The person who sends in the winning monicker will win a free trip to Korea as Al Martinez's bat man.

Incidentally, in one of my more serious moments I plan to cover such heavy subjects as Democracy's Threat to Russia, trim ankles (female), and the validity of the draft for non-vets.

Art Exhibitor to Address Art Club

Miss Mary Erkenbrack, well-known Bay area artist, will speak at the Art Club meeting to be held on October 19 at 1 o'clock.

So. Germany Prof. Enrolls at State

Impressed by Many Cars; Sees First Football Game

Among more than 140 foreign students currently enrolled at San Francisco State College is Joseph Harold, from southern Germany, who is subsidized by the associated students.

Mr. Harold, a teacher in the West German elementary school system, is attending State primarily to get a better understanding of American principles so that he can help further democracy in his home country. He is now studying art, education, English and psychology.

When asked what his most forcible impression to date of the United States had been, he remarked on the abundance of cars. "Practically everyone in America has a car, whereas in Germany car-owning is a privilege of only the rich." The first football game Mr. Harold ever witnessed, he said, was the State-Cal Tech contest.

Another interesting foreign student, now pursuing wisdom in these hallowed halls, is Mi Hekmat, proud possessor of a Ph.D. Dr. Hekmat came here from Teheran, Iran.

Some of the other countries represented are: China, Norway, Japan, the Philippine Islands, Holland and Korea. These collegiates are a mixture of exchange, scholarship and government subsidized students.

Regardless of its timeliness or its present-day importance, scientific research indicates that Communism will probably not displace sex as the number one topic of conversation.

Education Dept. Offers Training For Teachers of Handicapped Children

One of the most essential of all teacher education services is being carried on here at San Francisco State College with comparative obscurity, according to Dr. Leo F. Cain, head of the special education department.

This department, the only integrated group of its kind in California, is occupied with the training of teachers for special children. This classification includes the physically handicapped, including cerebral palsy; the deaf and hard of hearing; the speech defective; the blind and partially sighted; and the mentally retarded.

The Special Education department now has a resident staff of seven, including a research associate, who is doing a study under a two-year grant from the Rosenberg Foundation on the problem of mentally retarded children in secondary schools. In this work, he is cooperating with 10 California school systems.

One of the most important services being offered by the department is the cooperative teacher training program with the California Youth Authority. This program is planned to prepare the student for the general elementary or general secondary credential and to give him particular insight into individual guidance, testing the problems of remedial instruction. All students participating in this program spend one year in internship at one of the California Youth Authority institutions. The work they do while interns, is supervised by the college in cooperation with the Youth Authority staff, and they will be paid $170 a month during their internship.

Dr. Cain stated in an article in the September "California Parent Teacher," that our public schools are providing special services to less than one-tenth of the children who need them. He goes on to state, "There is... a crying need for an intelligent, planned program of personnel training, such program being necessarily based upon the kinds of programs to be developed." The Special Education department at San Francisco State College is filling that need so well that it has gained considerable recognition throughout California as well as the entire nation.

Reserve Call Business Majors Needed By Army

Men and women college students majoring in Business Administration and allied subjects, or those otherwise qualified in administration and supply, are being sought.

According to Colonel George D. Hart, San Francisco business executive and Commanding Officer of the 305th, young men between the ages of 17 and 34, and women between 18 and 34, are eligible to join the Logistical Command. Veterans of World War II may be enlisted in their highest wartime grade and may eventually qualify for a Reserve commission. Women applicants will be enlisted in the WAC Reserve in a grade commensurate with their civilian skills and background.

Active members of the unit receive regular Army pay for participation in training assemblies on the first and fourth Tuesdays of each month at the Presidio's Stillwell Hall. Students interested should contact the Unit Instructor of the 305th Logistical Command, Bldg. T-907 at the Presidio, or call WE 1-6111, Extension 3180.

The Rock State Dorm Has Its Advantages

Most students have probably never heard of "The Rock," other than the place where condemned men pay their debt to society. But here at State College there is a smaller version of the so-called "Rock," at 2255 Mariposa Street, the men's dormitory.

"The Rock" is no Waldorf-Astoria, nor is it a prize winning dream house from Home Beautiful, but to 26 men it means home.

It's history reaches back many years. Written on one of the walls is a sign, "George Washington Slept Here." Curiosity is immediately aroused, only to be baffled by the truth. George Washington did sleep there, and so did John Adams, but they were both State College students.

The rental fees are not expensive, considering the rise in price: $90 a semester for a single room, and $60 for double and quadruple rooms. Beginning this semester, only Freshmen and Sophomore men under 24 years of age are accepted as tenants at the "Rock." This regulation will not apply to residents during the summer session.

San Francisco State Only Western College to Offer Recreation Degree

Program Includes Summer and Winter Trips To Sierras; Trains Camp and Recreation Counselors

By Norma Swain

State's Recreation Department, which was started as a summer camp in 1936, has been the only west coast college to offer a degree in recreation since 1947. Today, under the supervision of its director, Charles B. Cranford, and assistants, Polly Glyer and Vic York, it trains students as leaders in both public and semi-private recreation. Training for scouting, "Y" work, group work agencies, institutional, industrial and school recreation, outdoor education and camping has been included in the curriculum.

Each rec major at State must complete 180 units of field work training. This is divided equally into camping, and public and private recreation. A large percentage of these majors already have jobs, particularly in the growing fields of school camping and recreation, and hospital recreation. A person with a background of recreation and special education is well suited to accept one of many jobs open in the California hospitals.

State now also maintains a recreation camp in the Sierras for training camp counselors. It is open during the summer, and during the winter ski season.

Recreation classes at State are not limited to recreation majors. All freshmen are required to take courses in recreation, and a wide range of classes is open to the general student body. This is a result of the opinion here, among the President and faculty, that the recreational phase of an individual's life is important. This is especially true with the increasingly shorter working hours for the general public.

Educators feel that education should teach the student skills for use in his leisure time. He can have some hobby, or leisure time activity, that he can carry on outside of school. Classes offered vary from fishing, outdoor cooking, geology for the layman, party planning, recreational crafts, recreation music, to recreational approaches to the theater.

This month State is sending counselors to Santa Clara County School Camp. The administration feels that such experience, if the student can afford it, would be invaluable to him, no matter what his field of study. Contact the recreation department for further information.

Campus Ramblings

By Bonnie Rolphe

Many a girl and fellow looked hopefully into their P. O. Boxes during the last couple of weeks, hoping perhaps to discover a little note inviting them to be a pledge in some organization. Needless to say, many were disappointed by an unsympathetic emptiness; others were surprised to discover an invitation; and some just don't care. Most of the sororities held teas last Sunday in honor of their new pledges.

I guess most of us have heard about "come as you are" parties, but when it comes to going to a dance in your pajama tops—well, I dunno. Anyway, there should be plenty of surprises at Delta Gamma Tau's "Pajama Top Hop" tomorrow night. Election results will be announced then, too.

It's a long way off, but Bill Hansen, activities commissioner, suggests you start thinking about the Cal-Aggie game at Davis. Buses will be chartered for persons who want to go and arrangements may be made in the student body office. The date is Saturday, November 4 at 8 p.m.

Free coffee and donuts! Yes, there is going to be an hour arranged by the student body activities commissioner when both faculty and student body card members can get to know each other better over a cup of java. Date has not been determined yet, but watch for posters.

You can't get a man with a gun? Mary Ellen Berry certainly gave a convincing performance at the KO-KT rally! I repeat, you can't!

Psychotherapy Lecture

Dr. Robert Stewart, assistant professor of psychology, will lecture on "Psychotherapy for Psychologists and Teachers," Tuesday at 1 p.m. in Anderson hall 210. All students are cordially invited to attend.

Gator Soccer Team Awaits Return Match With California Wednesday

Eager to Avenge 3-2 Defeat by Bears; USF Dons Shutout State, 3-0, in Opener; Neil Decker Stars

By Frank Gale

With last night's game against Stanford in the record books, San Francisco State's soccer team roars into practice today in preparation for next Wednesday night's return match with the University of California Bears. The game is scheduled for Cox Stadium at 8:15.

Last Saturday the Gators invaded Berkeley and had the Bears on the run, that is with 13 minutes to go in the game. Then the otherwise docile Bear went into action and scored two quick goals to edge Coach Jerry Kenney's charges, 3-2. Earlier in the game, Gator Mark Steinberg tallied twice to give State a 2-1 lead. Then the roof caved in and the Gators had lost their second straight tussle.

Steinberg is the same gent that did some fancy booting for the University of San Francisco Dons last year, and was instrumental in making the Hilltop school a national champ.

As usual, Neil Decker, the City College All-Conference pretty boy, played his usual brand of good ball. Also looking good were Walt Pudlowski, Ernie Huber, Lou Gucinski and Goalie Herb Anderson.

Earlier in the week, the Gators were set back by the USF Dons, 3-0, in the conference opener. The championship bound Dons scored in every period but the fourth with Olifunmi Osilbogum's second quarter 45 yard boot highlighting the affair. The other Don scores were made by Manuel Ortiz and Dick Baptista. It was strictly a USF show of deception, teamwork and fancy footwork. Most of the Don stars are sophomores, including Mr. Osilbogum.

Playing good ball for the thoroughly outclassed Gators were Carlos DeLeon, Hank Larmuseau, Pudlowski and Decker. Decker's inspirational play kept the Gators in the ball game. Despite the close score, the Dons easily outplayed the hometownies and could have racked up the score if they so desired. The two teams meet again on November 15.

To compensate for the Gator defeats, was the announcement that Ernie Feibusch, State's All-Conference and All-Star player, is eligible. There was some question as to his eligibility since he is a post graduate. However, he has been given the green light by the conference fathers.

Intramurals Bid For Lower Field

A change in the Frederic Burk School program to release the lower field will make possible the first intramural classic, touch football.

Mr. Bill Harkness, intramural director with the principal of Frederic Burk, are making program modifications so that the lower field can be used interchangeably. If a favorable agreement is reached touch football will start immediately.

All freshmen, fraternities or campus organizations are asked to contact Harkness if they are interested in signing up. Fraternities and campus organizations are to submit team rosters of all players immediately.

The defending championship club is Alpha Zeta Sigma.

Harriers Face San Jose

State opens its collegiate cross country season tomorrow at 4 p.m. when they meet San Jose State at Cox Stadium. Leading the way for the Gators will be Walt Boehne and John Holden.

Whittier Eleven Downs S. F. State, 41-20, Despite Rudy Smith's 58 Yard TD Gallop

By Gordon Raddue

Baptized to the circumstance of defeat by a smooth working, veteran Whittier eleven, Coach Joe Verducci and his dented but not crushed gridiron underlings are now resigning to the task of bringing to State its first Far Western Conference championship.

Since the Whittier game was a non-conference affair, the 41-20 loss was not too bitter a pill for the Gators to swallow. Although beaten convincingly, the green Gators not only showed that they can stand the rough going without coming apart at the seams, but also that they have a running attack that can roll against the toughest opposition.

The Whittier episode was a triumph of experience over inexperience, as the Poets came from behind to wear down the Gators in the waning moments of the game to turn a hard, closely fought battle into a clear cut victory.

State drew first blood in the first quarter when Quarterback Sam De Vito climaxed a 71-yard march with a touchdown pass to End Dick Payne from 33 yards out. The drive was accelerated by 30 and 19 yard runs by Halfback Rudy Smith and Fullback Walt Jourdan, respectively, both of whom were the leading offensive stars all night for State.

Warren Allbee converted to make it 7-0, and everything looked fine for the Gators.

The Poets wasted little time reversing the procedure, however, after End Ken Chandler gobbled up a fumble by State's Bob Keropian on the Gator 24. Three plays went awry, but a fourth down pass from Tailback Ray Dezer to Right Half Jim Stecklein caught the Gator secondary out of position and clicked for a touchdown.

Al Gasparian, who made good on five of six conversion tries for the Poets, tied up the ball game with his first extra point.

Later in the first quarter, Whittier took a 14-7 lead on a 61 yard drive, spearheaded by the ground rushes of its pulverizing fullback, Herm Reed, and Stecklein, who was a persistent breakaway threat all night. The touchdown was a carbon copy of the first Poet score, with Dezer throwing to Stecklein once more.

Rudy Smith then brought Gators up to 14-13 on a 58 yard touchdown gallop that had the spectators gasping in disbelief. Barely avoiding an ankle tackle at the line of scrimmage, Smith threaded his way miraculously through an onslaught of would-be tacklers all the way to pay dirt.

On a play that probably broke the Gators' backs, Stecklein took the kick-off back to the State 20, which set up another Dezer TD heave, this time to Quarterback Jack Pickering. Gasparian's toe made the intermission count 21-13.

State came back with great ground power in the second half, but pass interceptions and a blocked punt allowed the Poets to increase their lead.

After End Ed Vanderhoven intercepted a De Vito pass, Left Half Tony Sicilano skirted end for 30 yards and a clincher touchdown.

Jourdan, Smith and Keropian led a 72 yard third quarter drive, which found the latter scoring from 12 yards out, but that was all. Quarterback Clair Yauchzee scored for Whittier from the one at the end of a 54 yard third quarter march, and a blocked Glen Waaland punt by Poet Tackle Vic Cantelmo set up another 26 yard drive, which had Stecklein go over from the nine.

Verducci wasn't disheartened by his team's loss. "Our kids played a good game, but were outclassed by a better team," the Gator coach said, adding that Whittier should win the Southern California Conference.

He singled out Smith and Jourdan for great running, and praised Keropian for his excellent work on pass defense.

Defensively, Verducci was pleased by the work of tackles Gene Andersen and Neil Gunn, and by the Freshman Linebacker, Bill Caho.

Others who looked good on defense for the Gators were End Dewey Guerra and Linebacker John Wolterbeek.

Chief weaknesses of the Gators, as we saw it, were in open field blocking and tackling, and in pass protection. Nevertheless, they turned in a highly creditable performance, much better than the Whittier score indicates.

Kaufman Has 20-Game Schedule for JV Cagers

Coach Ray Kaufman announced last week that his junior varsity basketball team will play approximately 20 games, including tilts with St. Mary's Frosh, San Jose State Frosh and Concordia College. Men interested in joining the team should see Kaufman.

Joe Ferem Sees Successful Boxing Year With Abbott, Hughes and Jeong

Having established themselves as a leading Bay Area threat in boxing circles, Coach Joe Ferem's fighters are anticipating one of their most successful seasons.

On the basis of their fine showing last season, Ferem's squad gained experience and confidence which will be an invaluable aid in carrying out a successful campaign this year. "All of these factors should be an encouragement for future prospects," said Ferem.

The boxing program started last week under the supervision of Danny Martin, assistant boxing coach. Martin will handle the sport until football season closes. At this time Ferem will again take full control of boxing.

Ferem listed his outstanding returning veterans as Ted Abbott, Jim Hughes and Tony Jeong. Abbott, 145, gained the outstanding boxer's award last season. He scored the Gators' lone victory in their loss to San Jose State. Hughes, fighting at 155, captained last year's team. "He should win the majority of his bouts, if not all of them," says Ferem. Jeong, 125, is rated the most advanced boxer on the team.

Other prospects are Dick Boyd, Dave Cricks and Bob Kaffke.

JV's, Alameda NAS Clash Saturday

Moore Lauds Jayvee Spirit in 18-6 Defeat

By Marv Cohn

If you want a look-see at a ball club that plays each game with such fight and spirit that you'd think it were the Rose Bowl decider, then hie yourself over to the Alameda Naval Air Station Saturday where State's jayvees cross cleats with the Fliers at 2 p.m.

"We were outmanned, outplayed and outscored, but as far as guts and spirit goes, they couldn't touch us," were Coach Joe Moore's first words to the jayvee football team after the game last Saturday night, as they dragged their achin' bones off the El Cerrito High School field on the short end of an 18-6 contest with Contra Costa Junior College.

The East Bay boys just had too many guns for State's stalwarts, but not long after the battle began they knew they were in for a fight. Early in the first quarter, State's Dick Ellis punted to the Contra Costa 15. There was a fumble and the Gators' Merv Fauss came up with the pigskin. With a first down on CC's 15, quarterback Ellis sent Jim Sperou crashing for 7, to the 8. Then a penalty set the boys back to the 13. CC held, and took over on downs. On third down, however, CC's Ken Cox tossed one up to his own 28, where State's Hook Johnson seemed to appear from nowhere. He intercepted it, and scooted all the way to the Promised Land, for the Gators' first and only tally of the evening. The try for point was blocked, but San Francisco led, 6-0.

Early in the second quarter, CC took over on the 50, and put on their first sustained drive of the evening. Sparked by the running of Al Flores, they covered the distance in six plays and knotted up the tussle. At the half it was 6-6.

In the third quarter, CC put on its second long TD drive. Starting on their own 32, they rambled 68 yards in eight plays, to pull ahead 12-6. The feature of the march was a 42-yard gallop by Mel Toppence to the 15. For the remainder of the third period, and through the fourth, State couldn't seem to put enough together for another score, but late in the fourth CC's Ray Hurlbert cracked over the goal from the Gator 2, to put the game on ice. As the final gun sounded, it was Contra Costa 18, State 6.

When head yell leader Dick Sperison asked the rooters to stand for the coach yell last Friday night we noticed that there wasn't any hesitation on the part of the fans. From 20 yard line to 20 yard line State rooters rose to cheer the work of Joe Verducci.

Everyone had hoped that this might be an undefeated season for the Gators, and you might have thought that a loss Friday would be a bitter pill. Somehow the loss wasn't hard to take, because right up to the final minutes of the game everyone felt State had a chance of pulling the game out of the fire. Whittier was just too powerful and too well trained for the comparatively green Gator squad.

From the press box we'd like to say to the coaches and team that they looked well in losing, and we know a lot of Staters and spectators who felt the same way.

We would like to single out two men for special praise. First of all Rudy Smith, who stood out in the two previous games, proved he could break away for long runs no matter how tough the opposition. The other man we feel played a particularly outstanding game was Linebacker Bill Caho. Caho, who is continually misnamed Cahill, or Ca-who by teachers, sportscasters, sports writers and fans, was responsible for stopping more Whittier ball carriers than any other man.

Over at the El Cerrito High School Stadium last Saturday night, the State junior varsity was beaten 18 to 6 by a highly touted Contra Costa Junior College team. Not many Staters made the game that night, which is a shame, because it was a game that those who were there will remember for a long time. Playing in spite of a dozen injuries they fought right down to the final gun to hold the Contra Costa team. The entire team should be congratulated for the brave stand that they made.

It certainly was a pleasure to have the band stay for the hymn after the game was over the other night. Let's hope that it will continue throughout the season.

With the sudden expansion of State from a school of a few hundred to five thousand, Staters have had to get used to many shortages, but one which we felt very acutely at the game the other night was the lack of a scoreboard and clock. There must be some way State can get a board out at the new campus. Students may ignore the inconvenience of not having the score at a glance, but will the paying fan be quite as eager to remember the score?

Farmer's Cagers Hit By Graduation

Many veteran players were missing from Coach Dan Farmer's first basketball practice, which began recently. Graduation has taken its toll of familiar names in the Gator roster. Farmer's present job is to find sound players to fill the unoccupied spots.

Using the outside courts as their practice field, Farmer looks forward to the middle of November when the New Campus gym should be completed. In the meantime the squad uses the women's gym on Mondays and the courts on Wednesdays and Fridays.

Among the brighter prospects is Kev Duggan, All-American Junior College center. He played for the championship City College five last year.
